Friday 12th

Science-
Animals including humans

Read the statement below:

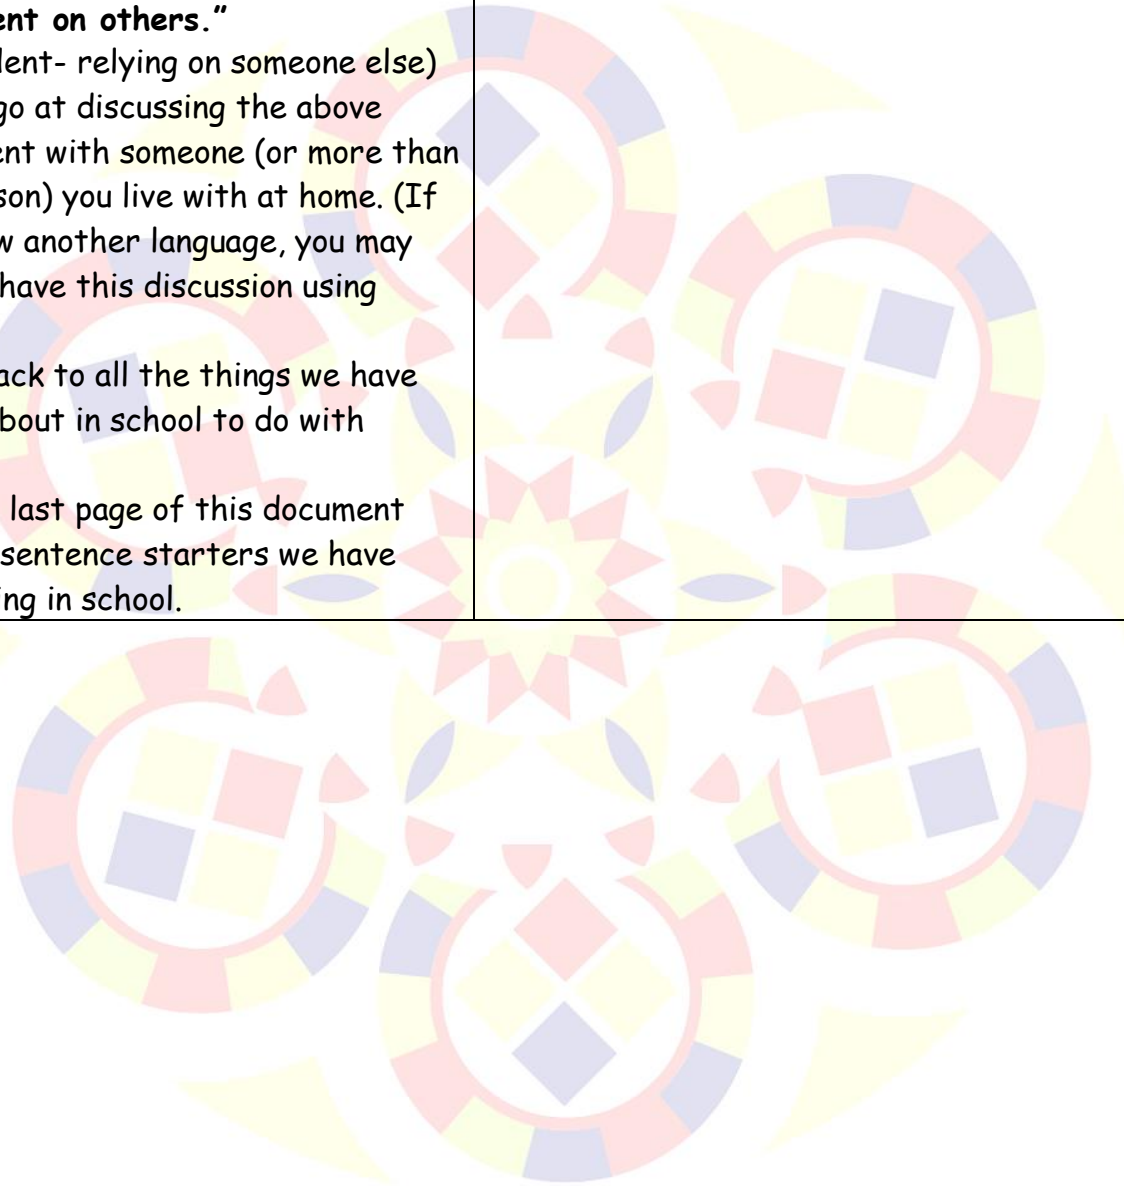

"All elderly people are completely dependent on others."

(Dependent- relying on someone else)

Have a go at discussing the above statement with someone (or more than one person) you live with at home. (If you know another language, you may wish to have this discussion using this.)

Think back to all the things we have learnt about in school to do with Oracy.

See the last page of this document for the sentence starters we have been using in school.

To agree

Most will agree that...

In agreement with...I think that...

That's an interesting point, I also believe that...

To challenge

Whilst I understand your point, I think that...

I disagree with you because...

You mentioned X but what about...?

To build on an idea

Building on that idea, I think that...

I agree and would like to add...

Linking to what X has said, I think that...

To instigate

I would like to start by saying...

I think we should consider...

Let's also think about...

To begin with, we should discuss...

To ask for detail

Can you provide an example?

Why do you think...?

What evidence justifies your argument?

To ask for clarity

Can you explain more about...?

Could you elaborate on...?

Can you clarify what you meant by...?

Taj Mahal

Even if you've never been to India, you've probably seen a photo of the Taj Mahal. It's a great tomb built for a king's wife hundreds of years ago that still is very impressive to look at. Located in Agra, a city in northern India, it took 20,000 workers over twenty years to finish the huge building.

Chichen Itza

It's not just Egypt that has big pyramids: there are many pyramids in Central America, built by ancient cultures like the Maya. One of the largest and best-known pyramids is Chichen Itza, located in the Yucatan Peninsula of Mexico. While Chichen Itza is in ruins, meaning nobody lives there and some buildings are falling apart, the huge pyramid is still there, rising 80 feet into the air.

Christ the Redeemer

Brazil is a very religious Catholic country and decided their national monument should show off their faith. Built on a mountain overlooking the huge city of Rio de Janeiro and standing about 100 feet high, this statue of Jesus Christ opens its arms to welcome people.

Colosseum

Perhaps the most famous thing about ancient Romans was their gladiator fights, where men and animals dueled in the arena. The Colosseum in Rome still stands tall after 2000 years, and visitors can see the stage where 50,000 members of the audience cheered on the battles. The Romans also flooded the arena to create ship battles for entertainment.
