Science:

Evolution Theory

Look at your physical features (e.g. your eye colour, nose shape). Then, look at photographs of your parents and siblings or in person and create a chart of the similarities you can see between you and your other family members.

Children inherit features from their parents.

Research a variety of celebrities and their children. What physical similarities can you spot? What features has their children inherited from them?

Using J2E and Purple Mash and other websites, find out about Charles Darwin and his theory of evolution. Display your findings in a way of your choice. E.g. a comic strip, a fact file, a poster.
